 Chimes Yearbook

"And we all sit around here in our hometown, listening to the waves as they all crash down."
 -Ian Watkins

Seituate Town Library
 Seituate, Mass

Teachers and students of all different ages showed their school spirit by cheering and competing in the tug-of-war.

Right: Juniors cheer as loud as they can to try and beat out the seniors.

Pep Rally

Students show their spirit!

Scituate High School President

As president of Scituate High School, Addy led every Pep Rally this year. She had her job cut out for her by announcing everything over the cheering students body.

We got spirit how 'bout you?

Mr. Brogna is caught off guard by the yearbook staff.

Srta. Struzziero, Srta. Bird y Srta. Krafton hablamos en la clase cuando sus estudiantes tienen almuerzo.

Mr. Carroll and Ms. Melone are feeling the enthusiasm at one of this year's pep rallies.

History teacher, Ms. Fanelli, smiles big for the camera. Fanelli is also in charge of the Drama club.

Mr. Dillon's face is in shock as students approach him with scissors...

Mr. Roberts gives the camera a thumbs up during his psychology class.

Ms. Curly, Ms. Donnelly, and Mr. Maki pose preppy-style during spirit week.

Mr. Perkins breaks a sweat while trying to help the faculty win tug-of-war.

Mr. Dillon practices before the student-faculty field hockey game. Glad to see he's in the spirit of the match, skirt and all.

Ms. Maguire, Ms. Shanley, Ms. Kanter, and Mr. Beattie show their excitement during a home football game. Faculty often come and support SHS teams and events.

Mr. Richter showing off his shades for neon day.

Mr. Costa ~ 1979

We bid these teachers a fond farewell and thank them for their service and dedication to teaching. Good luck and enjoy retirement!

ADL

Anti-Defamation League Mix It Up Day

Throughout lunchtime, students are encouraged to participate in building the card towers. ADL's most popular event is Mix It Up Day.

"ADL's objective is not to change people's minds but to open them."

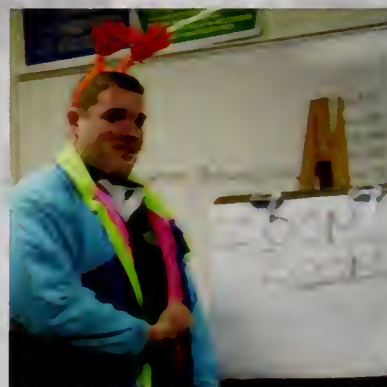

ADL members lead several sessions of Allies Not Bystanders which asks students to support each other.

Peer Ambassadors

Peer Ambassadors is a club at Scituate High School devoted to helping incoming freshmen and new students adjust to SHS, as well as volunteering at special events throughout the year. Members of Peer Ambassadors had the privilege this year of attending a workshop, learning new techniques and ice breakers that will aid Freshmen Orientation and other events. The faculty members who lead Peer Ambassadors are Ms. Hoffman and Ms. Owens.

Pangea

The goal of Pangea is to promote tolerance and acceptance of all people regardless of identity or orientation. Students met each Monday to coordinate tolerance and awareness events.

Seniors Addy Davis and Kathleen Hollis listen intently at a Peer Ambassadors meeting.

Juniors Jess Szklut, Emily Hoffman and Jen King prepare for the coming school year.

SHS Clubs like ADL, Peer Ambassadors, and Pangea work to promote not only tolerance but an overall safe and inviting atmosphere for everyone in the SHS community. From Freshman Orientation, to Mix-It Up Day and the Day of Silence, these organizations welcome students and encourage them to explore both their similarities and differences.

THE SCITUATION

SCITUATE HIGH SCHOOL

Vol. 2008-2009 Issue IV

$1.00

606 Chief Justice Cushing Highway Scituate, MA

Contact Us: scituation@gmail.com

It has been several years since Scituate High School last sponsored a school science fair and Feb. 5, 2009 the class of 2012 will be participating in its return. All freshmen will partake in the Scituate High School Science Fair with the intention to learn and participate in an inquiry based learning experience.

The participants will conduct an experiment (independently or with a partner) on a topic of their interest, as long as their project connects to the frameworks of physical science or biology and students must use the scientific method to test each hypothesis.

working with the science department chairman, Mr. Lindgren, on a Mars Student Imaging Program. This program will allow students to use Arizona State University's Mars Odyssey Spacecraft to study the different areas of Mars. These students must write a scientific proposal for a 12 km by 50 km image of the surface of Mars.

The freshmen class has many mixed opinions about exhibiting their work in the fair. Ian Wilder, freshman, said "It's actually easy, and it's a good introduction to high school."

Freshman

Olivia Gattuso
Editor In Chief

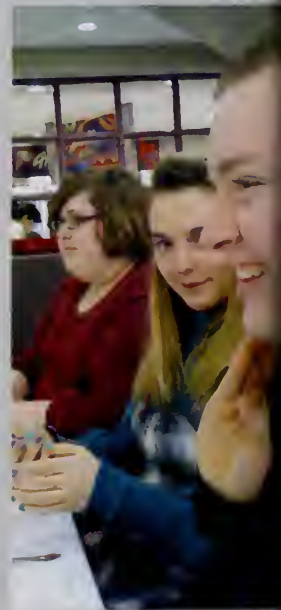

Wed., Dec. 3, students came together to take on a charitable and difficult endeavor. These students,

Music teacher Mrs. Tucker, said the chili was, "outstanding and absolutely delicious!"

Mr. Carroll and senior

The 2008-2009 Scituation newspaper staff won more awards than any previous group. Headed by EIC Livy Gattuso, the Scituation staff used teamwork to produce more issues this year than in the past. The staff traveled to both UMASS-Boston, Suffolk and BU this year for conferences.

Greetings from...

Spain

During April vacation 2009, 17 Spanish students and three teachers, Mrs. Lima, Ms. Struzziero, and Ms. Ball traveled to Spain. While traveling, the group explored in Madrid and the Northern Basque country. They had the opportunity to see El Prado museum, Reina Sofia Museum, Guggenheim, San Sebastian, and many other amazing sites. Each student had their own Spanish student to live with, allowing them to see the Spanish culture and also live in it for two

Field Hockey

After losing many seniors last year the team did not know what to expect of their season. It was a young group of with only three seniors, Shelagh Joyce, Megan Thibeault, and Colleen Farragher. The team started off the season well, tying Hingham, their powerhouse rival. Throughout the season the girls played well, but their record did not match their effort. They finished the season with a record of 4-12-2. Coach True said, "Most of the games were close, the record did not portray how well they played."

The cheerleading team performed at the Pep Rally and cheer on the football team for every game. 15 of the 19 girls were on their competition team as well, where they compete for a chance to attend Regionals.

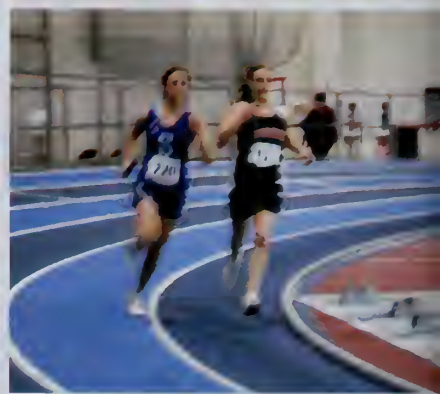

Football

This past season the team ended with a winning record for the first time in a long time, going 7-4 overall. This year's team owes much of its success to the five senior captains, Dean Kennedy, George Russo, Rob Carlezon, Kyle Crowley and Sam Buckley, all of whom were major contributions to the team. With a new head coach, Coach Devine, not only did the team enjoy success but also the sense of team unity.

COLOPHON

The 2009 Chimes yearbook theme was On the Water's Edge. As the yearbook staff thought about themes at the beginning of the school year, they visualized such a variety of ideas. We came up with several possible themes and the senior class of 2009 voted on these in their English classes. As alumni looking back the class decided they will always remember their connection to the water and the land that makes their town unique and has shaped not only their time at Scituate High School, but their entire lives.

Chimes was printed by Jostens Inc. using Yearbook Avenue online. Tara & Chris Anderson were the company representatives. There were 190 copies sold for $95 each, with 160 full color pages in each copy. All pages were designed by members of the Design for Publication course who make up the Chimes staff including James Breen, Lauren Cole, Tiffany Frazier, Sarah Foster, Lauren Gibbons, Megan Ghergurovich, Shakirla Lymon, Emily Noonan, Alyssa Rothstein, Jamie Ryan, Kendyl Trevena, Jessica Whittier. Staffer Sarah Foster '10 designed the cover. Lifetouch Studios of Massachusetts, provided all underclass, faculty, and group club photos.

Chimes is advised by Publication Advisor Ms. Colleen Gacic and Business Advisor Mr. Greg Ranieri. The Chimes staff would like to say a special thank you to James Gentile '09 who shared his candid photography from a variety of SHS events. We would also like to thank Alex Noonan '09 for her contribution to the sports pages.

Finally, many people wonder why the name of the SHS yearbook is Chimes. The Scituate Historical Society has provided us with an answer in this years ad on page 153. We thank them for their wisdom and the support from all our business, community and family sponsors.

Jamey Breen

Kendyl Trevena

Tiffany Frazier

Ever wonder what it takes to make the yearbook? Well, it takes a lot of work. In the past, the Chimes yearbook was put together by students who worked after school. Countless hours were spent of the students own free time in order to design the yearbook. This year, however, things were done a little differently. A new elective, called Design for Publication was added to the course list. The majority of this year-long courses' time is spent creating the yearbook.

In the first year of its existence, the members of Design for Publication have had to learn a lot and adapt quickly to many setbacks. Because she had never taught a class like this before, teacher Ms. Gacic, learned a lot as well. "I've learned to roll with the punches," she said, "and I feel fortunate to have such a great group of staffers who were able to do the same." Nevertheless, the yearbook staff has worked hard each day to create a piece of Scituate High School history.

With a new yearbook company, the design process was also different this year. Pages designed online gave students the chance to gain experience using computers in a new way.

Junior Emily Noonan said, "I had never really designed anything on the computer before. After taking this class, I now know how to use programs I never would have before."

Every day, all of the hard work and effort the staff puts into this yearbook has produced a great final product. Ms. Gacic is proud of her students as well, "Ultimately, I think this is going to be the best yearbook Scituate High has seen!"

Good luck as you take your next step!*

*"And gentle winds and waters near,
make music to the lonely ear."
~Byron*
